Dear Sir/madam,

I can confirm that I have known Irfan Qureshi for around 3 years.

I know him through his volunteering and playing recreational basketball, and have always found Irfan to be a hard-working, honest, reliable colleague who is able to communicate well with a variety of different age groups including adults such as the parents of the players he coaches. I have always been impressed with the way Irfan has conducted himself and has always been professional with the way he's approached work.

I would highly recommend Irfan for any job at your company and I'm sure that he will do a great job and would be a great asset to your business.

If you have any specific questions please feel free to contact me for more details,

Yours faithfully
